

LEADERSHIP BIOGRAPHIES

Beth Fetzer-Rice is the Executive Director of Home for Families in Columbus, Ohio. In her role at HFF, Beth combines evidence based practices with proven strategies to implement homeless prevention, re-housing and education programs to stabilize families and children living in poverty and experiencing crisis.

Beth has extensive non-profit and public sector experience including more than 23 years in leadership roles in the homeless and community social services systems. Her background includes managing teams of social workers, developing innovative programming, and leading planning efforts in both urban and rural communities. Beth has served on multiple boards and committees for homelessness, human services, anti-human trafficking and emergency disaster services. She has served as chair of county and regional homeless continuum of care committees, and has led diverse groups in coordinating resources to create efficient homeless service systems. Beth regularly provides technical assistance to communities and providers locally and nationally through conference presentations and training, and she currently serves as a Board Member and Vice President of COHHIO, the Coalition of Housing and Homelessness in Ohio.

Beth holds a Masters Degree in Social Work from The Ohio State University and is a Licensed Independent Social Work Supervisor in the State of Ohio.
